

<think> Alright, I need to help the user summarize their detailed profile into a concise version. Let me start by reviewing the information they provided. The user has certifications in 5G RAN design and initial tuning, as well as basic lab safety from Europe. They earned an M.B.Tech in ECE with a high CGPA from a reputable institute in India. Their languages include English and German at A1 level. Additionally, they have experience troubleshooting, customer handling, planning, and consultative skills. I should structure the summary to highlight these key points clearly. Starting with certifications, followed by education, then language proficiency, and finally their skills and background information. </think> SUMMARY: The individual holds certifications in 5G RAN Design (Fundamental Level) and Initial Tuning & Optimization (Fundamental Assessment), along with a basic lab safety certification from European standards.
